Miele W1 Washing Machine and T1 Dryer Earn the Good Housekeeping Seal Over 100 Miele Products are Backed by the Good Housekeeping Seal

Princeton, NJ, September 17, 2018 – Miele, the largest family-owned luxury appliance manufacturer, has earned the Good Housekeeping Seal on their new W1 washing machines and T1 dryers. The Good Housekeeping Institute methodically evaluates products using state-of-the-art consumer testing methods; reviewing product effectiveness, as well as packaging and marketing claims.

“Miele is honored to have earned the Good Housekeeping Seal from the Institute, which has been advocating for quality products since they opened their doors in 1900,” says Miele USA President, Jan Heck. “The W1 washing machines and T1 dryers were engineered to allow for optimal fabric care by our customers and we are delighted that the Seal now provides added assurance.”

The Good Housekeeping Institute was impressed by the ease of use of the new Miele washer and dryer, noting they have large capacities for machines of this size and a wide array of cycles and options. The Institute validated the performance of the machines, which impressively removed even set-in stains from their test swatches and test laundry loads were done quickly and well.

“This powerhouse washer and dryer duo is stacked with sophisticated technology that will take the guesswork out of cleaning and ‘debunk’ your reasons to skip laundry day,” adds Good Housekeeping Institute Director of the Home Appliances, Cleaning Products, and Textiles Lab, Carolyn Forte.
